

Text

So far, on their first full day in New York...
The Hoffmanns have been to Times Square. – And they've been to bed!
Now they feel better.
But they haven't been to other places.
They haven't been on the bus tour.
They haven't been to the Statue of Liberty.
And now it's too late. – It's nine o'clock now!

Next day the Hoffmanns are waiting for their Big Apple Greeter.

Dialogue

- SUE            Hi, are you the Hoffmann family?
- GERD           That's right. Gerd, Martina and Bianca.
- SUE            My name is Sue. I'm your Big Apple Greeter. Welcome to New York.
Have you been to New York before?
- MARTINA       Yes, we have. Well, Gerd and I have been there. We've been here before.
But it was a long time ago.
- SUE            And Bianca? Have you been here before?
- BIYNCA        No, I haven't.
- SUE            OK. Let's plan our day.

Exercise

What are Sue's questions? What are the Hoffmanns' answers?

SUE    Can I ask about your visit this time? Where have you been?

- |  |                 |
|--|-----------------|
| a) Have you been to Times Square?          | Yes, we have.   |
| b) Have you been to the Statue of Liberty? | No, we haven't. |
| c) Have you been on the subway?            | Yes, we have.   |
| d) Have you been on the bus tour?          | No, we haven't. |
| e) Have you been to a New York diner?      | No, we haven't. |
| f) Have you been to Ground Zero?           | No, we haven't. |